Calloway Sees Upswing in Business During '42

Higher Prices, Large Demand for Farmers in '42

"It has been an unusually prosperous year," was the answer given to a Ledger & Times reporter as he contacted the business operators in the city of Murray this week. Although with the advent of the war and rumors of war early in the year of 1941, Murray merchants have enjoyed a fine year and it is the general opinion that Murray is rapidly taking on prominence as a trading center and each year additional purchasing power is being brought to the city of Murray.

During the interview of the various businessmen and firms of the city, it was found that the lowest estimated increase in business was 20 per cent. Many declared 1941 the most successful year since 1928-1929. Murray merchants are to be congratulated upon their fine quality of goods displayed. Perhaps in no other city of its size can be found the modern and up-to-the-minute business places as in the city of Murray. One only needs to view the artistic and well-planned show windows of the downtown section to agree with this statement.

Murray and Calloway County will look forward to the days of 1942 with eagerness, regardless of the war clouds hanging low, for each will play its important part in the task that lies ahead and as true Americans will ever strive to build a bigger and better place in which to live. It is true that each and every person in Calloway County is conscious of the task that we are now facing; each one knows that it is a job which will require the cooperation and united effort of all Americans. Murray and Calloway County will carry on during the years to come in a manner that will bring commendation to all.

Farmers Must Have Marketing Cards to Sell Tobacco Crop

Farmers of Calloway County are reminded that they must have their Tobacco Marketing Cards in their possession at the time their tobacco is sold, otherwise a final settlement cannot be made, officials of the Calloway County ACA said this morning.

"We request all producers to call at the ACA office for their marketing cards prior to delivery of their crops, as it will be necessary to present this card before settlement can be made," a member of the ACA office personnel said.

It will save time and in some instances money if every farmer producing tobacco for the market will have his marketing card in his possession at the time he delivers his crop.

THE RED CROSS APPEAL

On the night of October 16, the U. S. Destroyer Kearney, proceeding in the North Atlantic off Iceland, was struck by a torpedo. Among the injured was Chief Boatman's Mate Leonard Frontakowski. His life depended on the immediate arrival of blood plasma for an emergency transfusion. While another destroyer steamed to the side of the stricken Kearney, carrying a naval surgeon, a plane loaded with blood plasma donated by the Red Cross volunteers took off from an undersigned island air base.

The dramatic story of how the plane dropped the precious plasma to the Kearney and how it saved the life of Leonard Frontakowski has been told in the news columns of the nation's press. It is well, however, to stress that the Red Cross was on the job with traditional promptness. The needs of our sailors in their dangerous North Atlantic assignment were anticipated.

NO FIRES MAR CHRISTMAS WEEK CHIEF HUGHES SAYS

Fire Chief Hughes reported that "not even a grass fire" was seen within the city limits during the week of Christmas activity. The Murray fire chief expressed his hope that all precaution being taken to hold fires to a minimum during this time when all materials are needed for defense work. "An outburst of fire," he said, "would not only destroy many articles and materials which cannot now be replaced at any price, therefore, I urge every citizen to use every known measure to prevent fires," the chief said.

Wherever our heroic soldiers, sailors and airmen are so valiantly defending our soil there you will also find the Red Cross flag unfurled along side the Stars and Stripes. Red Cross men are in every front. Funds are urgently needed to keep intact these front lines of mercy.

Opening Day Sales Averages Since '28 Listed

With the opening of the dark tobacco market yet six days off, growers of the Western district have assurance that prices to be paid for their crops will surpass the averages received for the crop in 1940.

It is thought that the short crop plus improved market conditions will advance prices for the various grades from $1 to $7 per hundred, on the basis of the advance prices as announced by the Western Dark Fired Tobacco Growers Association, which serve as a floor for prices on the local and nearby markets. Calloway growers stayed within their acreage allotments in planting the 1941 crop, and the drought reduced the production, with the result that the total crop will be smaller than that of 1940.

It is thought that the snuff manufacturers' firms will greedily buy in all the better grades of dark tobacco. There may be a greater demand for the lower grades used by the nicotine trade. The three Western District markets, Murray, Mayfield, and Paducah will open Tuesday, January 6. During the first week of sales last year, gross sales amounted to 1,840,000 pounds, at an average of $7.50 a hundred. The average on the Murray floors on the opening day in 1941 was $12.40, considerably higher than the Paducah and Mayfield opening sales.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Although incidents of the closing year are not conducive to happiness, if we compare conditions now, and prospects for the months ahead, with January 1, 1941, we will find enough hope to increase our confidence in the future.

A year ago the liberty-loving people and nations were insisting on independence. Bitter experience has caused them to pool their interests.

Last New Year our own people were divided and internal discord threatened to wreck our defense efforts as well as interfere with our standard of living.

This New Year there is no serious internal discord and the right to work has become paramount to the right to strike. And democracy is proving more efficient than totalitarianism.

Revelry has been discarded as a fitting way to celebrate the New Year and today is by Presidential Proclamation, a national day of prayer.
The days, weeks and months ahead will bring untold suffering to uncounted thousands of our people because wars can't be won without spilling blood and expending treasure.
But "in unity there is strength," and now that we are united, all the forces of evil shall not prevail against us.

IMPORTANCE OF FOOD

America at war is unlike the nations of Europe and Asia, the experts tell us, in that rationing of food here is not likely to become a part of the war economy.

On the other hand, they tell us, a shortage of food is not anticipated and it is our patriotic duty to pay more attention to the matter of balanced meals than ever before.

The reason for this is that well fed people are healthy people, and by safe-guarding and building up our health we are better prepared to do our part to win the war, whether our role be in the military establishment or providing the equipment and supplies for it.

It is a well known fact that the army, navy and air force are getting their best recruits from counties throughout the country such as ours, and that is because our people are in better physical condition than those reared in the large centers of population.

It is also a well known fact that counties such as Calloway can produce a great deal more of the kind of food needed in a war—more livestock, more poultry and eggs, more milk, more vegetables and fruits.

And it is sensible to assume that a nation-wide consciousness of the importance of well balanced meals will bring a greater demand for those products we know best how to raise and that it will be profitable to increase our production accordingly.

JAPS PREPARED FOR WAR

Although the reverses we are suffering in the Pacific at this time do not shake confidence in our ability to achieve a lasting victory over Japan, they do reveal the fact that the subjects of the "Son of Heaven" were well prepared for war with us and have undoubtedly been planning it for many years.

It makes us angry in the extreme to be kicked around by the Japs and it doesn't help our feelings any to realize that the supplies used by the Japanese army, navy and air force were furnished largely by us and safely stored against the day when they could catch us unawares.

And while it would be silly to consider preliminary victories as a forecast of what will happen in the main event, it would likewise be silly to discount, or minimize, the extent of our losses in having to evacuate our Pacific "stepping stones" to the Philippines, and possibly the islands themselves.

Being compelled to use Australia, the Netherlands East Indies, or some of the British territory in India as bases for airplanes and war ships puts us quite a distance from the objective we must reach to deal Japan a knock-out blow and prolongs the war accordingly.

As the Pacific war develops, and as we come to the delayed realization that a war machine that can take Hong Kong may play havoc in the Philippines, it is becoming more apparent to the rank and file of our people that we are not dealing with an imaginary menace but are at death grips with one of the strongest foes we have ever faced.

FREEDOM IS MADE OF SIMPLE STUFF

One of the most significant newspaper editorials printed in these years of National Defense was written recently by a young woman reporter of The Louisville Courier-Journal who did not know that she was writing an editorial at all.

This Week In Defense

A WEEK OF THE WAR

Great Britain's Prime Minister Churchill arrived in Washington for a meeting of the "United States-British War Council" which includes the heads of the two nations and their ranking naval and military advisers. The White House announced the primary objective of the conference is the "defeat of Hitlerism throughout the world."

The statement also said "it should be remembered that the present conferences in Washington should be regarded as preliminary to other conferences which will officially include Russia, China, the Netherlands, and the Dominions." The other interested nations will be kept in close touch with this preliminary planning.

In a side-by-side press conference, the President and Mr. Churchill said they were working out a broad development of strategy to be turned over to the military for execution in cooperation with all anti-Axis countries.

Speaking before an informal session of Congress, the Prime Minister proposed that following the present war the "germ centers of hate and revenge" should be constantly policed so the pestilence can be controlled at the very beginning.

The War Department reported during the past week 14 enemy submarines were sunk or damaged, one enemy transport and one mine sweeper were sunk and an additional transport and one seaplane tender were "probably" sunk. The department said enemy submarines had sunk three merchant ships and shelled two others. Wake Island, with its 400 officers and men and 1,000 construction workers, was reported captured. The War Department said an American Army bomber sank an enemy submarine off the California coast. There was heavy fighting in the Philippines and Manila was declared an open city.

A special House Committee investigating air transportation reported from a tour of the American Republics to report the Axis center of operations within the Caribbean Sea, the Panama Canal, strategic airports in Brazil just across from Africa, vast stocks of aviation gas and oil in Brazil, and "no less than 14" shortwave radio sets in Guatemala, among others.

The committee also reported finding the Nazis have perfect plans for the sabotage of all utilities in Buenos Aires and that in a crisis they could probably establish an operating base in Argentina.

The State Department announced a new trade agreement with Cuba and an accord with the Vichy Governor of French Martinique to continue the "status quo."

Hull issued a statement that seizure of the islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon near Canada by the Axis was "contrary to the agreement of all parties concerned and the letter, scratched off the signature and ran it as a lead editorial.

It immediately caused a sensation in Louisville. It was re-published in many other papers. Arthur Robb, editor of The Editor and Publisher, pays tribute to this editorial and to its author, saying "we're glad to add our own unaccustomed tribute of admiration and respect to a fine, clean job of writing." Editor and Publisher also reprints the editorial with a photograph of this personable young woman.

Entitled "Freedom Is Made of Simple Stuff," this editorial tells a story that all should read, none can deny. It says:

From the archives of broken peace we are bringing out old words and dusting them off for use again as shining lanterns to lead us through the darkness of another war.

Words like freedom, justice and truth—all of them, to define, none of them used more frequently than freedom.

You cannot say what freedom is, perhaps, in a single sentence. It is not necessary to define it. It is enough to point to it.

Freedom is a man lifting a gate latch at dusk and sitting for a while on the porch, smoking his pipe, before he goes to bed.

It is the violence of an argument outside an election poll; it is the righteous anger of the pulpits.

It is the warm laughter of a girl on a park bench. It is the rush of a train over the continent and the unafraid faces of people looking out the windows.

It is all the howdys in the world, and all the hellos.

It is Westbrook Pegler telling Roosevelt how to raise his chest, it is Roosevelt letting them raise themselves.

It is Lindbergh's appealing voice raised above a thousand hisses.

It is Dorothy Thompson asking for war; it is Gen. Hugh S. Johnson asking her to keep quiet.

It is you trying to remember the words of The Star Spangled Banner.

It is the sea breaking on wide sands somewhere and the shoulders of a mountain supporting the sky. It is the sun you fill your lungs with and the dirt that is your garden.

It is a man cursing all epps. It is the absence of apprehension at the sound of footsteps outside your closed door. It is your hot resentment of injury, the tilt of your chin and the tightening of your lips some times.

It is all the things you do and want to keep on doing. It is all the things you feel and cannot help feeling.

Freedom—it is you.

OUR DEMOCRACY

by Mat

A.D. 1942, and of INDEPENDENCE the 166th

OUR SYSTEM GIVES US ALL A BREAK...WE HAVE THE WORLD'S MOST WIDESPREAD, BIGGEST INDIVIDUAL OWNERSHIP OF WEALTH...AS SHOWN BY SAVINGS, MOTORS, LIFE INSURANCE, HOMES.

WE HAVE LIBERTY...WE WILL PRESERVE IT.

certainly without prior knowledge or consent in any sense of the U. S. Government."

The President wrote Prime Minister Curtin of Australia "we give our assurances that we consider the safety of your great Commonwealth as a definite essential in every plan of defense."

The President approved a plan for combining the production of the United States and Canada, and removing barriers such as tariffs, import duties, customs and other regulations. The American Section of the Joint War Production Committee was asked to investigate what legislative action was necessary to fulfill the plan.

Parts of the OPM were reorganized to speed up war production, to quicken the conversion of civilian industry to war output and to widen the participation of management and labor.

The OPM Labor Division announced the three special "contract" trains which featured the nation to exhibit the type of war work small manufacturers might handle, uncovered 11,000 factories able to do some of the work. Among them are a fish hook manufacturer who can make hooks for the Army and a beer can concern which can make hand grenades. The first of 48 "department stores of subcontracting" was opened in St. Louis. The "stores" will exhibit samples of needed war equipment to prospective producers.

The OPM issued an estimate that nearly $4,000,000,000 in war materials could be produced by civilian-goods plants in 15 industries if they are converted to war work.

The Labor Department reported its check of 18 foods in 19 cities showed little net change in retail prices during the first half of December. Price Administrator Henderson moved to stabilize prices of leather, sugar, reclaimed rubber, shoes and heels, cotton "fine goods," glycerin, ethyl alcohol, and dry colors. Mr. Henderson also asked manufacturers of china, glass, lampshades, watches and all other goods to hold prices at not more than December 1 levels.

The OEM announced war production demands will necessitate electrical power rationing and pooling for the Southeast, Southwest, Pacific coast and part of the Middle West during 1942 and 1943.

Priorities Division ordered owners of privately-financed defense housing projects to make definite statement on prices at which they will sell or rent the properties they construct. The Division also issued new orders limiting uses of lead and tin, steel, burlap, wool, manila cordage, refined sugar, wire and wire products, spare tires, passenger cars and light trucks.

The President's industry-labor conference to plan uninterrupted war production agreed: (1) There shall be no strikes or lockouts; (2) all disputes shall be settled by peaceful means; (3) the President shall set up a proper War Labor Board to handle these disputes. The President accepted the plan without reservations and said he would act at once.

The U. S. Conciliation Service reported settlement of 28 labor disputes. Labor Secretary Perkins announced that during the past year hourly earnings of factory workers increased 14.7 per cent; average hours rose 4.8 per cent; and weekly earnings of both full and part time employment rose 20.8 per cent.

The OPM Labor Division said the U. S. has the manpower to meet 1942's need of at least 3,000,000 additional persons for war industries. But there is a shortage of industrial plant supervisors and skilled workers in some war crafts and occupations. The Division said war industries now employing 4,500,000 will need 9,000,000 by June, 1943. These additional workers can be raised without serious economic disruption by utilizing all existing sources—women, Negroes, foreign born older workers; and those displaced from civilian jobs, he said.

The Agriculture Department announced a favorable economic outlook for agriculture in 1942 despite entry of the U. S. into war due to the expanding effort and prospective accompanying rise in industrial activity, employment and wages. Agriculture Secretary Wickard said 1942 production goals call for more milk, eggs, pork, beef, canned vegetables, peanuts and soybeans, and a cut in production of wheat, cotton and tobacco. Mr. Wickard also said the millionth ton of American food shipped to Great Britain under the lend-lease system has arrived safely.

Civilian Defense

OCD announced Youth Auxiliary Committees will be put in operation about January 1 for participation in the work of local and state defense councils. OCD Director LaGuardia said he may ask Congress to approve funds for 50,000,000 gas masks for civilians in the three coastal areas. He reported some manufacturers were selling World War I masks no longer approved by the Army. The FBI announced civilian defense courses will be conducted for police on the West Coast and later will be expanded to include 200 cities and 30,000 regular law enforcement officers in rural and metropolitan areas.

BE CALM

Next Monday, the first rationing hour will start controlling tire sales and retreading in order to speed equipment to our boys in greater quantities.

All right! I am willing even to give up my car for their support, and the average citizen of Calloway County is as loyal as I. We must support this bond 100 per cent.

Let's have a meeting at the Court House Friday night at 7 o'clock of merchants and business-men to form plans to help this bond and to better understand the rules and regulations so that we may be ready to cooperate with them on January 5 when the regulation starts.

New Concord Clippings

I wanted to find time to wish you all a Merry Christmas, but never could, so will neglect a few household duties long enough to tell you how we spent the holidays and at least greet you at the beginning of a New Year.

In spite of all the wars and rumors of wars the Christmas vacation was spent with a reasonable amount of gaiety and festivity. The last day of school at Concord before the holidays began was saddened by Mrs. Juna Wilson's sudden loss of her father, but each room had its Christmas tree anyway. Mrs. Rudy Wimberly was kind enough to entertain Mrs. Wilson's grades at her own home during the absence of the teacher.

Most every family welcomed some of the married children home and saw several soldier boys in on leave. Miss Celia Miller's brother, Edward, was among the number.

A few automobile wrecks marred the happiness of some. No serious ones took place around here, the Rainey Lovins and James Wisheart wore a few bandages, grateful that they were not killed when they ran into a concrete culvert abutment while shooting fire poppers with several other boys in the back seat.

Many sumptuous meals were enjoyed during the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Rainey Lovins were hosts to about 25 members of their families Christmas Eve, after which the Christmas tree yielded its fruits.

The usual "big dinners" were enjoyed at Jessie McClure's and Mrs. Fannie Wisheart's, as has been the custom for many years. Mr. and Mrs. Linus Spiceland spent Christmas Day in Tennessee at his mother's with the immediate family and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Spiceland from near Metropolis, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kirks from San Antonio, Tex. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lovins and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Lovins also entertained their parents, brothers and sisters and some relatives at delicious dinners on two consecutive days. We had the opportunity of seeing that nice kitchen which has been installed in the Almo High School. Congratulations, teachers and folks!

Mrs. E. W. Lovins, Jessie Mc-

Clure and Annie Willis enjoyed three church services Sunday, one at New Hope, one at Murray Baptist Church, and one at Providence. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Dave McClure and son, Gilmer McClure of Carlsbad, Mexico, before he leaves for the army.

Well, as schools begin soon again, may not get to talk to you again soon, but I hope that 1942 has in store for all of us and you many pleasant surprises and successes, and hope that our new neighbors in Concord, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Garland will like our neighborhood and that the Misses Mary and Sally Nance who have recently resigned from their "good positions" in Chicago to come home to their Concord farm will enjoy home life as much as they anticipated.

Sincerely,
Chatterbox

Living From The Farm

By RACHEL ROWLAND
Home Demonstration Agent

The beginning of a new year is a time of inventory, of checking up on what has been accomplished during the past year and of planning what things will be done in the coming year.

For the farm family it should be a time of seeing how much of what had been planned for the past year had been actually done, then deciding what changes and improvements, if any, need to be made in making plans for the coming year.

Making plans is a cooperative undertaking and every member of the family needs to take part.

One thing the farm family will want to discuss and include in the year's plans is a live-at-home program. Every family has a part in preparing for total national defense.

One most important part that farm families can do, and do well, is to grow and produce all the food and other products possible for family use. So the garden should be carefully planned while it is still covered with snow. A year round garden will be needed more than it has in many years. Just before Christmas a dinner was served which included carrots, lettuce and greens, all fresh from the garden. Plan to equal or improve that from your own garden next December, and plan it right now.

Be sure the amount of vegetables sown in the garden will include sufficient amounts and varieties for canning. Plan to grow at least one new vegetable. Of course a live-at-home program includes much more than a garden, but that is one point to start from this month.

Every family should definitely plan a good health program for the members. This might include learning to like new foods, from father down to the baby. It is patriotic to be strong and healthy, so help your family to plan for and to accomplish this.

NEW MILK PRICES
Effective Jan 1, 1942

For reasons given below, it is necessary that we make a small increase in the prices of Sunburst Grade A Milk and Cream—

Owing to much higher feed prices, as well as increased labor and supply costs, we are having to pay the 12 producers who furnish us with Grade A Milk a higher price for their milk.

These 12 farms are especially equipped and operate under city, state and federal inspection, and most of them have registered Jerseys and their milk tests well above 5% butterfat. All of this fat is contained in the Sunburst Milk that you buy, while the average milk bottled is about 4% butterfat, often less.

This entire increase in price, as per schedule below, is being paid the producers in an effort to help them meet their rapidly rising costs.

THE NEW PRICES ARE:

MILK — Quarts... 13c; Pints... 7c
CREAM — Quarts... 70c; 1/2 Pints... 20c
BUTTERMILK — Qts. 8c (no change)

GOOD QUALITY

Porter from newspaper files. Calloway County has long been noted for its high quality tobacco and the local loose leaf floor, three in number, have been highly commended for their methods of handling the weed. High averages have been maintained by all three floors for several years.

Diversification of crops in Calloway County has been the trend during the last several years and it is well that this program has been carried out to a large extent, however, Calloway farmers are producers of fine quality of dark tobacco. They have spent years of their lives in an attempt to produce a good type of tobacco, they have complied with the reduction in acreage of the weed and in general have cooperated to attain best interests for all concerned.

Calloway farmers know how to raise good tobacco and neighboring counties have looked with envy upon local loose floor sales. Last year brought out the fact that Calloway farmers are skilled tobacco producers and have good reason to be as family after family and generation after generation have studied the problem thoroughly from proper seeding in plant beds on through the time for delivery.

The tobacco industry remains a great money power in Calloway and annually pours thousands of dollars into the pockets of the farmers and it is quite evident that as the farmer prospers so does the rest of the industry.

All indications and predictions point toward an increase in prices for the 1941 crop and local loose floor sales, farmers and merchants are optimistic about tobacco sales during the entire sales season.

ON THE RECORDS

By Franklin P. Ingels

The year's end finds the American record industry in extremely healthy condition with a total sale of 120,000,000 discs (as against 100,000,000 last year). The plants of the three major record companies—Victor, Columbia and Decca—are now running 24 hours a day and are confronted with a tremendous backlog of orders that may take months to fill. The record reviewer this is a heartening sign. The American people do love, appreciate and support good music. RCA-Victor states, for example, that nearly four times as many sets of the Tchaikovsky Piano Concerto album, as recorded by G. S. P. Tchaikovsky's NBC Orchestra were bought since its release only two months ago, than of all album sets bought during

New Jailer

R. H. (Rob) Lamb succeeded Conrad C. Jones who had served two terms as jailer of Calloway County.

Succeeds Judge Potts

C. A. Hale will direct the affairs of Calloway County in the next four years. Judge Hale replaces Judge G. M. Potts who filled out the unexpired term of John W. Clopton.

The tremendous demand has its dark side for a reviewer, however. Your writer has been unable to secure review copies of Decca records since last June, Columbia and Okeh dance records have not been received since the 13th of October, while Victor and Bluebird dance records were last received on September 20. Columbia Masterworks were last heard from November 17. This month Columbia announced that for the first time in their history they were not going to issue any release for January. While Victor's Musical Masterpieces and regular Red-Sea releases still come for review, the quantity is rather restricted. For instance, both Victor and Columbia have issued the Franck-D minor Symphony as their respective headlines for the month of December, your reviewer is unable to discuss either since neither set has been received.

Your reviewer begs your patience therefore, until these companies are once more in position to assist this column in providing a more complete and adequate coverage of the new records.

Turning to our rapidly dwindling backlog of records not yet reviewed, we take considerable pleasure in calling to your attention an album set called "Great Songs of Faith"—a collection of five beautiful solo arias from famous oratorios, sung with great beauty and simplicity by Marian Anderson, contralto, and accompanied by the Victor Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Charles O'Connell. The album includes "It is Fulfilled" from Bach's St. John Passion, "He Shall Feed His Flock" and "He Was Despised and Rejected" from Handel's Messiah, "But the Lord is Mindful of His Own" from Mendelssohn's "St. Paul," and "O Rest as the Lord" from Mendelssohn's "Elijah." Miss Anderson is in superb voice and she sings these glorious excerpts with dignity and sincere reverence. Best of all is the Bach aria. It is certainly Miss Anderson's finest disc to date. The entire set is unreservedly recommended in content, recording and tonal balance (Victor Set M-850, 6 sides).

For Bach addicts, Victor has just released the definitive version of his monumental "Art of Fugue" as played by E. Power Biggs at the console of the Baroque Organ in the German Museum of Harvard University. The choice is simply justified inasmuch as this was the instrument for which Bach wrote much of his greatest contrapuntal music and since Bach left no clue as to the exact medium to be employed for the execution of this complex work. And just what is this "Art of Fugue"? Well, it is really a group of 14 independent fugues on one principal theme, increasing in complexity and interest from the first fugue to the last. It is a sort of treatise in the art of fugue construction, but not a dull, pedantic, text-book of the subject. No, there is much deep emotion here in spite of the mathematical exactness of the medium—perhaps because of the inexorable mathematics involved. No notes are wasted, nothing extraneous appears, and the brilliant culmination of the awe and the majority of the stately firmament. The work takes 19 record sides, ending abruptly at the point where Bach is supposed to have died. The odd side contains, appropriately enough, Bach's last organ chorale—prelude, "Wenn wir in höchsten Nothen sein" (When we, in deepest need), better known, perhaps, by the title "Before Thy Throne I Stand." Performance and recording are excellent. Highly recommended for those far-enough advanced in their musical adventure to appreciate fugues (Victor Set M-832 and 833, 20 sides).

Noteworthy Singles

E. Power Biggs, again—this time at the console of the contemporary organ in the Memorial Church at Harvard University—giving us a beautiful performance of Brahms' chorale—prelude, "O How a Rose Ever Blooming," Op. 122, No. 4, a deeply romantic yet restrained work. It is coupled with a good organ arrangement of the well-known Bach chorale "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring." A fine addition to your library (Victor).

Annual Farm Home Meet to Be Held at Lexington Jan. 27-30

The Annual Farm and Home Convention will be held by the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky, at Lexington, January 27 through January 30. An excellent program has been arranged that will give information as well as inspiration to the farm people. The demands on agricultural production are so great, certainly the farm people need all the inspiration and information they can get.

As usual, some representative from the County Extension office will plan to make this trip, and a good delegation of farm people, both men and women, is urged to attend the convention. At least one car will be available from the Extension office, and it is hoped that enough farm people will want to go that other cars will have to be secured.

The program for the convention has not been released at present, but will be in the near future, and copies will be available to anyone that would like to attend.

If you are interested in a good trip, and attending a worthwhile convention at a minimum of expense, contact the County Agent's office and learn more about the program and the plans for attending.

Colored Youth Found Dead on Railroad Track

James G. Pearson, 28 years of age, colored, was found dead on the railroad tracks, near the Murray Milk Products Co., just north of the city. The badly mangled body was found Friday morning at about 6:30 by the crew of a passing freight train. Pearson was an employee at the Balltown Barrage project at Paris. He was unmarried.

It was evident that the body had been hit by a train early Thursday evening and was dragged 311 steps and later another train going in the opposite direction dragged his body approximately 91 steps in the other direction, according to Coroner Mack Churchill.

Funeral services were held for Pearson Friday afternoon following the inquest, with burial in the city cemetery.
